AeroPak Airlines — Sales & Ticketing Findings Report

1. Assumptions

- Fixed mixed casing in BookingChannel, TravelClass and FlightType, and changed "Intl" to "International".
- Removed "$", "USD" and commas from FareAmount and made it a number (assumed all fares are in USD).
- Changed lowercase airport codes to uppercase.
- A duplicate = same TicketID appearing more than once. Removed [fill in] rows.
- Removed [fill in] rows with CustomerID CUS-99999, as it does not exist in Dim_Customer.
- Kept zero AncillaryRevenue values (customer bought no extras).
- Revenue and average fare charts use Confirmed bookings only, because cancelled tickets mostly have a fare of 0.
- Kept Origin and BookingDate as active relationships; Destination and FlightDate are inactive. Made a Route column for route charts.

3. Key findings

1. All top 10 revenue routes are international, even though most bookings are domestic.
2. Business class makes the least revenue, even less than Economy.
3. No channel or payment method stands out; they are all almost equal.
4. 8.54% of bookings are cancelled or refunded.

4. Recommendation

Promote Business class upgrades on top international routes (JFK, MAN, YYZ), and look into why 8.54% of bookings get cancelled or refunded.
